Correction to the Montana Public Library Annual Report of Statistics for July 1994

through June 1995: A thank you to Dave Pauli for catching the error in the Missoula Public Library figure on page 12 of the statistical report. Under the category "Other Operating Expenditures" the figure should be "$169,824." This would make the final total equal to $819,888 and the library expenditure per capita equal to $9.95. This change will affect the table on page 39 of the Top Twenty Lists/Highest Expenditures Per Capita. Missoula will be taken off the list and Laurel will be added with a per capita of $15.38. And on page 40, the Service Area Population Top Five Lists/ Expenditures Per Capita, Missoula will be taken off the list and Billings will be added with a per capita of $11.70. Thank you again to Dave, and please make these corrections in your statistical report. If there are other additions or corrections, please contact Diane Gunderson at 406-444-5349 or E-mail: dmgunde@msl.mt.gov.

MTBL Librarian to Speak to American Indian Higher Education Consortium:

A 1992 survey on two Montana Indian reservations indicated a lack of awareness of the Montana Talking Book Library (MTBL) and its services. MTBL is working to increase knowledge of the services among Montana Native American communities. The Montana tribal college librarians have played a key role in this effort. In October 1995, Kay Carlson of the John Woodenlegs Memorial Library and Tim Bernardis of Little Big Horn College Library hosted public forums where MTBL and three other agencies visited with members of the community about services available for people with visual disabilities. The participating agencies felt the public forums were successful and are interested in planning similar programs at the other tribal colleges.

Stacey Gordon, librarian of the Salish Kootenai College Library, invited Sandra Jarvie, MTBL Regional Librarian, to speak to the Librarians and Archivists of the American Indian Higher Education Consortium on the free public library service available to the visually impaired.

Farewell Open House: A farewell open house for State Librarian Richard Miller is planned for April 24th, 4:00-7:00 p.m. at the Montana State Library. Anyone who is unable to attend but would like to send Good Luck wishes to him may send them to Diane Gunderson, Montana State Library, P.O. Box 201800, Helena, MT 59620-1800. They will be presented to Richard at the open house. His last day is April 26th.

Darlene Staffeldt to be Acting State Librarian: The Commission has appointed Darlene Staffeldt, Statewide Library Resources Director, to be the acting State Librarian during the interim between State Librarians.

GIS in Education: Since its formation in 1994, the school subcommittee has been actively promoting the use of GIS in Education. The group expanding Public Night to include kids' activities, working with teachers on GIS projects in their classrooms, establishing endowed scholarships at both of the major universities in Montana, and developing a GIS Resource Box for teachers.

Public Night has been a part of the Users' Group Conference since 1991. At the 1995 Conference in Helena, an effort was made to include the K-12 crowd in Public Night. It successfully generated enthusiasm for more GIS involvement at the K-12 level.

The Users' Group also voted to establish scholarships at Montana State University (MSU) and the University of Montana (UM). Each endowment will be established at $10,000; this will allow an annual $500 scholarship to be granted in perpetuity. They aim to have both endowments in place by 2000.

This year's Public Night was expanded to include highlights of GIS projects from several Missoula area schools. Students as well as GIS professionals will be present to answer questions about their projects.

Another goal is to put together both a physical and virtual GIS Resource Box to package GIS software, tools, and lesson plans that could travel from school to school. A homepage is in the works which has links to GIS freeware, data, and exercises for K-12 kids.

Commission News

February Commission

Meeting: On Feb 14th, the State Library Commission approved the six federation plans of service for FY 1997. Most of the federations addressed all five of the areas of emphasis established by the Commission: technology, continuing education, reference, resource sharing and consulting.

Other Commission actions at the February meeting included:

- ▶ Acceptance of the resignation of Missoula Public Library as Tamarack Federation Headquarters. All public libraries in that federation have been contacted to determine interest in assuming the role;
- ▶ Approval of the Statewide Long Range Plan [recognizing it as a working document that the new state librarian may wish to revise];
- ▶ Approval of the Collection Management Honor Roll;
- ▶ A public hearing on the federation Administrative Rule change.

The Commission also awarded up to $99,874 of 1996 LSCA Title II construction funds to the Sheridan Public Library, contingent upon receipt of the funds from the U.S. Dept of Education. 1997 LSCA Title I and III Non-Construction grant funds were awarded in ranked order to Eagle Link (Sidney) - $11,580; SLATE (Miles City) - $25,308; NorCentralNet (Havre) - three grants totaling $116,488; The Virtual Museum (Libby) - $34,095; Have Laptop, Will Travel (Missoula) - $51,306; The Last Best Web (Univ of Montana) - $75,716; and TetOnline (Fairfield/Choteau) - $70,593, also contingent upon receipt of funding and the resolution of the 1996 LSCA appeals process.

Commission Meetings: Dates have been set for State Library Commission 1996 meetings: April 25; May 30 and 31; August 21, October 3 and December 4. There is a possibility that each of the last three meetings will be extended to two days; the listed date would be the second day in each instance.

New Federation Rule: A public hearing was held February 13 on the amendment of Administrative Rules of Montana (ARM) 10.102.5102. All those who spoke at the hearing were in favor of adding the following language to the current rule dealing with library federations:

(c) The state library commission does have the responsibility and authority to approve federation plans of service and does have the responsibility and authority to approve or deny funding for the components of the plans of service. A federation may not receive an appropriation from the state library commission until its annual plan of service for federation activities is approved by the commission. The state library commission can disapprove a plan of service only because it was not prepared according to the procedures and forms established by the state library commission, or because it does not address the authorized purposes and/or priorities as established by the state library commission to implement its state long range plan for libraries.

(d) Each federation's annual plan of service shall be based upon direction given by the state library commission from its consideration of the state long range plan for libraries. The annual plan of service is submitted to the state library each January for consideration and action by the state library commission at its February meeting. Changes or appeals related to the plans of service occur during February/March. These changes or appeals are acted upon by the state library commission in April/May of each year.

(e) Each federation shall ensure equal opportunity for representation of its member libraries and shall have approved bylaws which shall address approval procedures for the annual plan of service, proxy voting, quorum requirements and other procedural matters necessary for conducting federation business.

(f) An appeals process shall be available for any federation which is denied funding. This appeals process shall follow the appeals process for denial of a grant as set forth in ARM 10.101.206.

The State Library Commission is expected to finalize the additional language at its April 25th meeting.

Public Library News

County Mill Levy on June

Ballot: On February 6, 1996, the Gallatin County Commission agreed to place the issue of increased tax support for county libraries on the June 4 primary ballot. The measure would authorize the county to raise the rural library mill levy from 1.5 to 5 mills. Only county residents living outside the city limits of Belgrade, Bozeman, Manhattan, Three Forks, and West Yellowstone will vote on the issue. The money provided would be divided among all five municipal libraries in Gallatin County.

Selected Readings on Internet Content Regulation:

Internet content regulation, the attempt to restrict access to materials on the Internet considered "indecent," has become a hot topic. It has resulted in the approval of language in the current Telecommunications Competition and Deregulation Act that could prove problematic to libraries, librarians, and other institutions concerned with intellectual freedom. To help the library profession better understand the issues surrounding Internet content regulation, the ALA provides the following reading list. Rapid Transition to Electronic Depository Program Planned:

The Government Printing Office [GPO] has developed a transition plan that assumes that nearly all of the information provided through the Federal Depository Library Program [FDLP] will be electronic by October 1998. Only 24 core publications would be available in paper. Efforts would be made to allow depository libraries free access. The GPO plans to expend up to $500,000 in FY'97 for "technology grants" to depository libraries that lack the resources needed to serve the public in the electronic FDLP.

Library associations are working together to get Congress to take 5-7 years instead of 2 years for this transition and to maintain more choice in format. Libraries are encouraged to comment on the transition plan which will be available the end of March.

Go to the Documents Interest Group at the upcoming MLA Conference if you are interested.

Comments on the plan can be sent to the GPO. Call J.D. Young, Director of the Library Program Service: 202-512-1114 or E-mail: directps@access.digex.net

New Libraries on the Information Superhighway Advocacy Network: LISAN, the Libraries on the Information Superhighway Network, has been established by the Library and Information Technology Association [LITA] and the Office of Information Technology Policy [OITP]. It includes more than 100 librarians representing a broad range of types of libraries from every region in the nation.

LISAN members will be available to speak and write on libraries and the information superhighway. Contact: Nancy Roderer, Director, Yale Medical Library, 203-785-5352, E-mail: nancy.roderer@yale.edu.

Singer Faith Hill Featured in Literacy PSA: Country singer Faith Hill encourages children and adults to read and to use the library in two public service announcements. Hill, whose father cannot read, feels strongly about the literacy program. She has been called "country's hottest newcomer," and has won numerous country music awards in the last two years. The PSAs will air on CMT [Country Music Television] beginning this month. They began airing on Warner cable television stations in January. Audio versions will run on 2,500 country music, news/talk and college stations. Copies are available for local libraries.
